JOHN WOHLFIEL OF FLUIDMASTER RECOGNIZED FOR LEADERSHIP AND VOLUNTEERISM IN THE COMMUNITY

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, CA – April 16, 2014 – John Wohlfiel, VP of Human Resources for Fluidmaster® Inc. based in San Juan Capistrano, California, was recently honored by two different organizations in his community. In March, Wohlfiel was an honoree for 2013 Human Resources Executive of the Year by the National Human Resources Association and on April 9th, OneOC® recognized him for his leadership and active volunteerism at the 38th Annual Spirit of Volunteerism Awards Banquet.

In addition to his more traditional Human Resources functions, Wohlfiel actively contributes to the planning and implementation of cross-functional business processes to support Fluidmaster's aggressive organic and strategic growth. His work in such areas as championing the company's annual Relay for Life fundraising resulted in Wohlfiel being asked to co-Chair the San Juan Capistrano community event for 2014 and contributed to Fluidmaster being named by the Mayor of San Juan Capistrano as the city's Business Leader of the Year.

“John has been a big factor in Fluidmaster's recognition as an Orange County Register “Top Work Place” and Orange County Business Journal “Best Place to Work” for two years running,” said Todd Talbot, Fluidmaster President. “Not only does he tirelessly work in support of helping us retain our best team members and finding the most qualified candidates when needed, but his community involvement is exemplary.”

“I’m grateful to work at Fluidmaster where we are recognized as a Great Place to Work by our employees and our leadership values involvement in the community,” said Wohlfiel.

Wohlfiel earned his Business degree from Long Beach State University and is a member of a number of professional associations including NHRA and SHRM. He is certified as a Senior Professional in HR and a Global Professional in HR by the Human Resources Certification Institute. He and his family reside in Oceanside.

About Fluidmaster
